NUMBER THIRTY-FOUR

Hurrah for Bilbo. He and Elenor have got into a scrap. Elenor wants to bring in domestic servants from the islands, while Bilbo says he wants to clean out the aileys of Washington and put them to work. We are going to have enough folks of our own on the WPA in the post-Roosevelt period without bringing in any more. Bilbo, by virtue of his chairmanship on the D. C. Committee, is "Mayor" of Washington.

To date about $7,500 of the county's Red Cross quota of $20,000, has been collected. Let's not fall down on the job of sustaining this greatest of all welfare agencies.

The venerable Mr. W. M. Dubard, the last of the county's Confederate veterans, is in a coma. Little hope for his recovery is entertained.

Wouldn't it be paradoxical if, when the USO buildings are finished, practically all the soldiers will be gone?

The old lady after attending a WAVE meeting at the court house told the WAVE Recruiting Officer that, if she was within the age limit, nobody could keep her out of the WAVES. And, me always bragging on the WACs!! Oh, me, wimmen are perverse.

By the way, wonder where my favorite WAC is?

Somebody reported seeing Louis Friedman sitting on the curb crying recently.

The USO-Colored has been added to our mailing list. Kincaid, the Director, seems to be doing a good job.

Everybody is talking about the army air base, but nobody knows anything about it.

Wonder how my favorite blond over in Alabama is getting along.

The Tomodori Cafe opened with flying colors one day last week.

Sam Mills wanted to know how to tell a lady of the evening from any other lady. At his age, this looks like a question that is idle to answer. Anyway, if he does not already know, I can tell him. It is instinct.

The pitiful thing is that, while the telegrams, "The Secretary of War renews to notify you . . .", come into the community with alarming frequency, they have just started coming in. Your boy or my boy may be next.

No apartments, no rooms, no houses, today, is getting to be a sing song affair with us. Our friends are very kind to refer every prospect to us. In reality they are just passing the buck.

Speaking of going before the draft board, it is reported from Cleveland by INS that a father of five children had been called before his board eleven times. The man had both of his legs amputated when he was 3 years of age.

We note the fact that Mrs. Harrison Tribble has changed her address from Sanatorium to Tillipolia indicates that she has greatly improved.

I think that Jaunita Sitt, etc., have transferred from the Medical Corps to the Infantry.

We wonder if the MPs do like many civil officers: drink the licker they have captured?

Several men went back to see All Baba and the 40 Thieves in hopes that the maid would forget to use that black robe when that pretty thing got out of the bath.

General Hershey stated substantially that there would not be a physically fit married man, not engaged in vital work, left in civil life by July 1st. Bad news for the Axis, as some of them are powerful men.

I heard of one man, in the married group and within the age limit, who said he was making too much money to go to war. Hershey needs smart, alert men like that.

I'll bet they hardly know a war is going on, in Hot Springs what with the races, wimmen and licker.

The Corporal and the Corporal have returned.

There are some of the damnest rascals floating about that I have ever heard. It is not merely latrine dope, for it must come from a cave under the latrine.

It looks like the old lady could do something more original than getting a cold, like us mediocre folks.

Missing In Action

Word has been received here that 8/Sgt. Merritt Clogston, of Grenada, has been missing in the New Guinea area since February 28th. His widowed mother, Mrs. Lilla Clogston, lives in Grenada. He was a graduate of GHS in the class of 1942.

Mrs. West Resigned As City Recorder Monday

The resignation of Mrs. Willye Y. West, as City Recorder was tendered to the City Council Monday night and was very reluctantly accepted by the city fathers. Her resignation will be effective on May 15, the day when Mrs. West, who had been elected without opposition for her fifth four-year term, would begin her 17th year in this important office. Ill health and increasing work were assigned as reasons.

Mrs. West was immediately appointed Collector of water bills, a position which will require less time and energy. This post was accepted by her.

An election to fill the office of City Recorder was ordered for April 10.

Mrs. West has been a faithful, conscientious servant of the City of Grenada and her place will be hard to fill.

The people of Grenada will read of her resignation with profound regret.

Visiting Minister To Preach Sunday

Chaplain A. B. Buchanan, Reginald Chaplain of the 376 Infantry at Camp McCain, will preach at All Saints Episcopal church on Sunday, March 19 at the 11 o'clock services.

The Chaplain is on leave from the Congregational parish at Manhasset, L. I. and is one of the most magnetic speakers ever to speak in Grenada. He recently spoke at the Methodist church

Episcopal Bishop To Deliver Sermon

Bishop Duncan Gray is to be in Grenada Wednesday evening, March 22 at All Saints Episcopal church to confirm a class and to deliver a sermon at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to hear him.

PREPAREDNESS

An old Indian walked into the newspaper office to pay his subscription. After he had paid the editor, he asked for a receipt. While the editor was making it out, he asked the Indian why he wanted it. The Indian replied:

"Me old injun. Soon me die and go to heaven. So Peter in heaven asked: 'You been good injun?' Me say 'Yes.' Then him say 'You pay editor for newspaper?' Me say 'Yes.' Him say 'Let me see receipt.'

"Me no got receipt. Then me have to run all over. Hell to find you and get receipt."

Nobody but the War Department knows what disposition of the camp and the air base will be made, and the WD always reserves the right to change its mind on 60 seconds notice. Therefore, it is idle for civilians to speculate and TALK about the military affairs. The WD does not take civilians into its confidence about its moves. It is a great pity that civilians would not pay more attention to their affairs than to the affairs over which the WD exercises exclusive jurisdiction.

I bet they hardly know a war is going on, in Hot Springs what with the races, wimmen and licker.

The Corporal and the Corporal have returned.

There are some of the damnest rascals floating about that I have ever heard. It is not merely latrine dope, for it must come from a cave under the latrine.

Salvage Operations For C-47 Plane Discontinued

Vicksburg, Miss.—Salvage operations for the C-47 transport plane based at the U. S. Army Air Field, Grenada, Miss., which crashed in the Mississippi River at Chicot Discharge Range approximately four and one-half miles north of Arkansas City, Ark., on 3rd March, 1944, have been discontinued. The plane was on a routine training flight and, when it crashed, the occupants of the plane were rescued by employees of the Vicksburg Engineer District, who were working at that location, without injury to anyone involved.

Salvage operations were initiated by the Vicksburg Engineer District on Sunday morning, March 5. This steam towboat, "Charles H. West," and the U. S. discharge boat, "Hood," were dispatched to the scene and conducted dragging operations throughout the day. These boats were again dispatched to the scene on Tuesday, March 7, to continue search for the lost plane. However, due to the depth of the water and the extremely swift velocity of the river, further salvage operations for recovery of the plane are not considered warranted.

PRAYER

I have tried to refrain from writing on prayer thinking some one would call me a coward as afraid of my enemies who are fighting against us. I guess I was a little pessimistic about prayer. I have now got myself together, and am now optimistic when I count God's blessings we get from prayer. We should not feel that we are cowards and afraid of our foes if we pray. As a minister of the gospel, I have nothing to offer the war torn world better than prayer. We know we have the greatest army in the world. We know our men fight as they were like steel: We know we are furnishing our Allies whatever they need to carry on the war. Not a hundred times no. We are afraid of no ungodly nation on earth when it comes to a great government like ours.

Now please let me call your attention to prayer. Do you know prayer changes things? Do you know the value of prayer? Have you stopped long enough to think on your own ways? (I guess not). It is not a matter we're afraid of our foes, but we do not want our dear fathers, sons and brothers to be slain from the hands of sinful, wicked, and ungodly men. Let me call your attention to some effects of prayer. Daniel prayed three times a day in the sight of his enemies. They cast him into the lion's den, but God converted the lions to bodyguards. God changed a burning fiery furnace into a quiet living room. (Let us pray.) It was on a dark and stormy night where my Christ prayed to His Father. Now let us see what happened: The frisky lightning closed its eyes, belching thunders closed their mouths, the invisible winds blew to peaceful lodging places. The dashing waters became placid. The sun smiled again. (Will you pray?) Joshua was leading an army in God's name. As the enemies' arrows were whistling their deadly soles, and the sun was about to set, the moon was climbing the eastern horizon, Joshua prayed to His Heavenly Father to hold the sun on Gibeon, and the moon in the valley of Ajalon. John 10:22-23. The Lord gave him the victory. (Will you pray for victory?) Will you go to the "Garden of Gethsemane" where my Lord went to pray? Oh, will you listen to His prayer? Will you read Matthew's 26th chapter? Not only did He pray for Himself—but He prayed for His disciples. (Will you pray for your sons, your brothers, and your husbands?)

In the Lord you can find a Gethsemane anywhere. We should pray for our President, believing he is doing his best. (God bless him). Mothers, will you stop long enough to pray for that son, that kissed you good bye, to shed his precious blood for you and for his government? Can you not feel that son's hot breath still lingering on your cheeks? Are you praying that God will bring him back to you? (I hope you are). Wives, are you praying for that dear husband of yours who left you here in a peaceful land to brave his body to shot and shell, to die over there somewhere to keep Old Glory still floating on the breeze?

My God! I wonder so many times are you spending these sad days in earthly and worldly things. I see many wives and mothers who seem to forget their loved ones somewhere over there. Please think that beautiful room with your son's or your husband's picture hanging on the wall into a room of prayer. (Will you? Can you?)

I am praying and hoping not to be a fanatic, but an humble servant of the Lord.

Dear readers, you can not dance, drink and joy ride yourselves into freedom. We must pray, live a Godly life, and help others to know Jesus Christ. May end appealing to ministers please have thirty minutes of prayer in your church every Sunday or regularly. I hope each church will sing Sunday morning:

Have Thine Own Way, Lord.
Have Thine Own Way—

If I have said anything in this publication that is worth while, please let me hear from you.

I am your humble servant,

LAST MINUTE MEAT SAVERS

These last minute meat savers may mean the difference between comfort and chilly corners all through the long winter weeks. Some are the homely old ideas used by people living in rural areas to keep their houses warm, brought back into use today to help conserve fuel and keep our home and family warm.

If there is a draft from an outside door, roll a sand bag or rolled up rug against the sill, inconvenient but it works. Do the same with doors to closed rooms.

Be sure to pull down shades at night, and that means all the way down below the sill.

Here is another old-fashioned one—Keep the floors well covered with rugs if you have them, and to get greater efficiency line the rugs with several layers of newspapers, ruglining or insulating blanket.

If you have a room that's hard to heat because the radiator is too small, there's a way to get more heat out of it for short periods by placing an electric fan on the floor 3 or 4 feet in front of the radiator and sending its current of air directly toward the radiator. An air current will be induced, which in a short time will distribute warm air to every part of the room.

If the garage is connected to the house, don't drive away and leave the doors open. It may be convenient, but it wastes heat.

Don't listen to that last story the departing guest has to tell. Just ease him out and shut the door when he says the first good-bye!

J. T. Thomas, head of Grenada Bank System, owned a home place.

Next the Dubard homes, and one remembers the afternoon many years ago when the splendid spacious two-story home of Mr. and Mrs. Bassar Dubard, burned. They rebuilt at once, an attractive bungalow type home. On this place several years ago a driller set up an outfit to test for oil in this "gas mill." It was finally abandoned.

The Singleton home place, the house so long painted brown, now is an attractive white with Wisteria vines about the porch. This is the old Nason place and much county history could be told by the Nason family from its century old record in Grenada county—near this place, on the south side of the road, the ruins of the old Whittaker place where Major Alexander Whittaker lived immediately following the Civil War. Here he lost by fire, one of the first cotton gins in the county.

Then the Dr. Trimble place, Whittaker place and the Guy place and the Gerault place where genuine hospitality reigned in yesteryear, formed a close knit neighborhood.

Passing the town of Holcomb one remembers that before the fire which destroyed the main part of town it was a hustling timber center, as the mighty forests were ruthlessly cut and hauled to the loading platform. Steam cotton gins have been replaced by electric gins, and I well remember how skeptical the negroes were about their field weights of cotton "turn out" when run through an electric gin.

The Booker Terrell place, where one of the oldest cemeteries in the county is located in a cedar and pine grove, and the site of Tuscaloosa, old land office as operated by the Federal government a hundred years ago. Here still stands the old tavern, once operated by the Terrell family, which stood close to the Yalobusha river so as to accommodate river trade, and on the stage coach road which accommodated passengers between Memphis and Jackson. The upstairs guest chambers are close beneath the eaves. Running in line, which is cut through by the highway, is the breast works thrown up during the Civil War by infantrymen of the Confederacy. Sunflowers and gum trees now form a field line along its ridge.

Then the river bottom with its "one way" bridges and the Laclede place, once owned by the late Fred Nason, sheriff of Grenada county, whose unsolved death, murdered in a Memphis hotel, still perplexes and bothers us. The line of pear trees, planted by Mr. Nason now is white with blossoms. The Martin place, home of Mr. Will B. Hoff's grandmother and mother, stands. This home, at one time one of the finest in Grenada county, was the scene of much activity in early days. Notable gentry of Tennessee visited here often.

The Rosenwald School for negro children is located in the bend of the road on the Martin place and then Oxford, long time home of the Staten family. Pecan and pear trees in neat rows and in the background sheds and for cattle and hogs. Mrs. Staten raised that on the Memphis market last week their wonderful black Angus calves brought 2c per pound more than their white face Herefords.

The Auxiliary Air Base, on the Whittaker and Dubard place is just one big flat piece of land. Gone is "our" home site with its beautiful trees. The "lower" place, where much of the rubbish from A. A. F. was deposited, has been cleared of stumps only recently. Much work is to be done on the farms by an ever dwindling working force. Negro farmers are being called into military service and to industry where wages are high.

The road to Oxford isn't different from the thousands of other roads over America, and one can imagine how rich in folk lore this land of ours really is.

Greater Gore Springs

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hayward entertained the Gore Springs faculty Friday night, March 10th in the form of a cook party. During the games mints and salted nuts were served, later the host served a plate consisting of sandwiches, olives, tuna fish salad, pickles and Coca-Cola, followed by ice cream and cake. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. York, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ray, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Shaw, Mrs. Ann Hankins, Mrs. Elvanda Brewer, Misses Loraine Hardin, Virginia Smith and Ruby James.

On Tuesday, March 7th the home of Rev. and Mrs. Austin was the scene of a miscellaneous shindig given in honor of Mesdames Pete Stewart and Donald Trippett. The guests were shown into the spacious living room by Mrs. Shaw Williams. Booklets were passed and each person wrote a recipe on a household hint for the young matrons. Many useful gifts were presented them. Mrs. Austin assisted by Mrs. Ellie Sultan, served a plate of sandwiches and cookies with hot chocolate.

The Home Demonstration Club met March 9th in the Home Ec. building. Twenty-two members were present. Mrs. Dell Trussell, vice president, presided and Mrs. Beulah Hemphill led the singing of opening songs. Mrs. Neely gave a report on the tailoring school conducted in Grenada this Spring by Miss Ouida Midkiff, State Clothing specialist. She displayed a wool coat being made by Mrs. J. G. Smith. A demonstration of various jars and tops suitable for canning was given by Mrs. Neely. Secretary Mrs. Shaw Williams announced a tin can contest; a prize to be given at the April meeting to the member bringing the largest number of cans. An egg hunt was planned for April 6th. Mrs. W. T. York and Miss Virginia Smith will have charge of the program in April. Mrs. J. G. Smith, of Grenada, was a visitor. Sandwiches, cookies, pickles, stuffed eggs and Coca-Cola were served.

Mrs. Madge Childs Woods entertained the twenty members of Chapel Hill Club with a bountiful dinner on Tuesday, March 7th.

Mrs. Cora James, of Memphis, visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Gillon and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. James last week.

Jimmie McWhorter was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Curtis and family in Winona last Friday.

Mrs. Griffin Thomas, of Grenada, is making her home with her mother, Mrs. Luisa Worsham. Mr. Thomas is in the Navy.

Friends of Mrs. Pauline Abele are sorry to learn of her serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Worsham of Fort Bliss, Texas, and Grenada, are visiting their mother, Mrs. Luisa B. Worsham.

Mrs. Lura Evans, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Langdon, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Evans and Jimmie, of Greenwood, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Gillon Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Martin spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Ned Martin and daughter in Grenada.

Mrs. Elvanda Brewer and Eloise Norman spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Norman in Grenada.

FIGHTING PARTNERS

The boy in the tank and the man on the tractor are partners — fighting partners — in this war for Freedom! We on the home front must furnish the food (16,000,000 more acres of it than last year's record total), to supply our boys with what they need for Victory.

With farm labor short, every piece of farm machinery must be kept in the fields working, in fighting-trim, and not in the shed for repairs. Rust, dirt and wear must be prevented.

GRENADA GIRL IS BRIDE'S MAID

In one of the most beautiful weddings of the season, Miss Emma Elizabeth Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rubin Aldridge Hale, of Greenwood, and Lt. Robert Welsh Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carkier Hill, of Birmingham, said their marriage vows in an evening ceremony solemnized at the First Baptist Church in Greenwood, with Rev. Edward J. Caswell saying the double ring ceremony.

The bride is a niece of Mrs. A. N. Rayburn, of Grenada, being a daughter of Mrs. Rayburn's sister, and Miss Mary Nell Rayburn, the bride's cousin, was one of the four lovely bride's maids.

We quote from the Greenwood Commonwealth: "Misses Eva McBee, Louise McIntyre, Marian Wells and Mary Nell Rayburn were brides maids, and wore identical lines as that of the maid of honor, with contrasting blue flowers on head dress. Their bouquets also matched that of the maid of honor, and were tied with pink ribbon." Miss Elizabeth Tapp attended Miss Hale, as maid of honor, wearing a petal pink dress with jersey bodice and full net skirt. Double rows of cord shirring attached the long torso bodice to the skirt, with the same cordings used for the sweetheart neckline and the shirred cuff of the bracelet length sleeve. Her bouquet was mixed Spring flowers with streamers of blue ribbon. Her head dress was of pink velveteen in place of blue flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Rayburn turned home Sunday: Mrs. Rayburn and Mary Nell having gone to Greenwood on Thursday.

Mrs. H. J. Ray left Wednesday for a visit with her son, Sgt. Henry Ray, Jr., and family at Alexandria, La.

1st Lt. Jack R. Carter has arrived safely in England according to reports received by his family.

Mrs. Cas Edgar Heath, Jr., will leave this week end to join her sister, Mrs. Jim Stuckey and Mr. Stuckey for a trip to Hot Springs, Ark. They expect to be there three weeks.

Mrs. Donald Ross left early this week to visit her son, Pfc. Donald Ross in camp at Corpus Christi, Texas.

Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Liles left Tuesday for Tunica where Rev. Liles preached in the Episcopal Church on Wednesday.

There's a precious little baby who lives just across the street from me. Her daddy is in his country's service

Perhaps across the sea,
I know he loves his baby and longs to see her each day;
For this is and always will be a loving father's way.

For this little child so many hearts are full of love.
It seems to me I can see the good God smiling from above.
In the Master's service there seems no better part
Than planting loving memories in a little child's heart.

For her birthday there was only one candle on the cake;
As I vision the happy gathering here's a prayer I want to make
That this daddy will come safely home to his little one.
As her grandfather Whitaker did in World War number one.

Dedicated to Shirley May Whitaker.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY HAS TEA

Monday afternoon, between the hours of 4 and 6:30, all Circles of the First Presbyterian church gathered at the manse for a beautiful formal tea. Mrs. C. A. Phar and Mrs. R. H. Horton, in formal attire, received the guests and assisting them were the general officers and the circle leaders.

At this time circle membership was determined by the usual drawing of names.

Ten was served from a charmingly arranged lace draped table which held a large silver bowl filled with King Alfred jonquils and yellow acacia. Green tapers glowed in silver holders. Additional refreshments of French pastry, sandwiches and salted nuts were served.

Circle leaders and officers named will be published next week.

Mr. Henry Trussell of Itta Bena was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Trussell at Gore Springs Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Herring plan to go to Hot Springs, Ark., next week. They will leave Monday.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The art of living, of course, is the other great factor which makes the kidneys most remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, they become the cause of many diseases that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer aching backsache, persistent headaches, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, sweating, painless, worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passage are sometimes further evidence of kidney trouble.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. See Doctor's Pill. It is a registered trademark of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doctor's. Sold at all drug stores.

Bomb Hell Out Of Them

The so-called sisters and the do-gooders are already deplored the terrible bombing of German cities with the attendant huge loss of life and of property. Faint whispers of the "poor German people" are heard. This whisper may become a great sound ere long unless the so-called sisters are hushed up.

Where were the do-gooders when Warsaw and Rotterdam were ruthlessly destroyed and millions of innocent women and children were killed or allowed to starve? Where were the so-called sisters when England's capital city was bombed nightly with the result that more civilians were killed than have been military men? Where were the so-called sisters when women and children were bundled into air tight trucks and asphyxiated and when the same class of noncombatants were placed in supposedly delousing houses and sealed to death?

There is no one in trying to differentiate between the "poor German people" and the Nazis, for they are one and the same. In 90 percent of the cases, if not more, a German is a Nazi and a Nazi is a German.

Talk to Germany in the only language it can understand, that is relentless bombing, unceasing destruction and unabating fury of whatever kind available.

This talk of the "poor German people" caused a premature end of the last war, an end which permitted Germany to emerge with its war-making apparatus untouched, an end which has seen no hostile foot on German soil.

Bomb hell out of them. Bomb Germany again and again. Bomb them until they are so utterly demoralized that they will never again threaten the liberty of the world.

Conditions At Parchman

Conditions are so bad at the state penitentiary at Parchman that the Sunflower county grand jury took occasion to throw some light on it.

It has been revealed that there has not been a dentist on duty at the penitentiary for either two or three years.

It has been revealed that there is no chapel on the entire 20,000 acre plantation.

BUT it has been revealed that the net profit to the State from the penitentiary last year was about half a million dollars.

Certainly then, there is no financial reason why prisoners in that institution should not have dental care, should not have access to some kind of church, and should not be forced to live in unsanitary, crowded fire-traps.

This $500,000 is really "blood money," extracted from the toll of men who, far from being better men when released, are hardened criminals with legitimate chips on their shoulders.

This penitentiary should not be a money-making institution, even if it is fair that it should bear its own expenses, but it should be a corrective institution from which men would come to respectability, and come out to be upright citizens, not hardened criminals.

33 Years In Auto Business

On March 13, 1910, Mr. J. H. Neely, Sr., of Grenada, started in the then infant business of retailing and repairing "gas buggies," and he has been in that business ever since. He was the first Chrysler dealer in Mississippi and one of the first in the South, and he is still handling Chrysler products. At that time there was only one car in the county.

He has made a deserved success of his business, which years ago he incorporated as Grenada Auto Co., and is going strong today in spite of the handicaps that are placed on the automobile business.

May he be here selling Chrysler products 34 more years is the wish of his many friends.

The Offenders Are Paying

The Sheriff and his deputies, Bill Lott, Taylor Hayward, and Walter Young, and the new constable, Tandy Lott, are making it pretty darn hard on the moonshiners, liquor peddlers and other law violators, so much so that they are not only paying their own expenses and salaries, but are turning a handsome surplus into the county treasury. There is no sense in making us who keep the law, and those who do not get caught, helping pay for law enforcement. It is much better as it is for the fellows who get caught to pay the freight.

We are pretty sure that the money turned in by Judge Carothers in the City Court either pays the expenses of law enforcement, or goes a long ways toward doing it.

This is as it should be.

Why Should Poland Be So Troublesome?

Instead of always raising hell about something or other, and threatening the amity between the fighting allies, it seems that the handful of Polish diplomats in London should do like the fellow whose head is in the lion's mouth—keep still as a mouse.

The whole of Poland, except a small area which the Russians have recaptured, is in the hands of the Germans. The Poles have no independent army! they have no seat of government, except a building which they occupy in London. They have nothing but HOPE that the Allies will help restore them to power. If it were not for the Allies, they would have nothing at all.

Yet it looks as if the Polish diplomats are about the most belligerent diplomats in the world. The patience of the Allies may become exhausted, and the Poles told, "OK, buddies, go get what you want."

What's The Matter With WAC?

That question is easy to answer. There is nothing the matter with the WAC. The WAC is OK.

The question, "Why are there not more volunteers in the WAC, and in other service organizations for women?" is the question of the moment, when military and naval commanders are crying for more women to release able bodied men from jobs that women can fill as well, or, more likely, better.

Personally I know little about the WAC, but I know nothing of the other organizations. However I have observed some things about the WAC and, therefore, I am going to stick out my neck and try to answer the second question:

First, the WAAC got off to a bad start. An applicant was given only a physical examination and scant attention was paid to moral or educational backgrounds. The WAAC therefore obtained a good many women who did no credit to the organization, but to the contrary. One "A" dropped from WAAC. But still the average young woman does not pay much attention to the niceties of the alphabet and scarcely noted the elimination of one "A."

Promotions in the WAC seem to be terribly slow, infinitely slower than in the U. S. Army. I know a few WAC privates who, if they wore britches instead of skirts, would be Master Sergeants or commissioned officers. I know WAC lieutenants who, if they wore britches, would be captains or majors. Even the Commanding Officer of the entire WAC organization is only a Colonel. You know Mary to be a highly educated woman, one who held a position carrying responsibility in civil life, yet you still get letters from Private Mary. You cannot hide those things from women in civil life.

There is no use in assailing the antiriotism of the women who could become members of the WAC. Remember that about 90 percent of the soldiers were MADE to go to war. Most of them would have preferred to stay at home and enjoy the large salaries and wages now being paid. The prospective WAC is human too, and she too probably prefers to enjoy high wages and freedom of action after work hours.

The only way to get enough WAC's is to draft them, and yet the proposed Universal Service law will never be enacted; therefore there will never be enough WACs.

What was said above no doubt applies with almost equal force to the WAVES, the SPARS, etc.

Two Sets Of Draft Regulations

The hide-away in the Washington offices which offers exemption from the draft may easily become a national scandal.

According to the Commercial Appeal's Washington correspondent, George Morris, there are at least 40,000 young men in Washington who, if they were in Grenada or in Podunk, would be either in the army or in Class 1-A. It seems that the Washington draft board gives certain "points" to young married men, more "points" to the man with two children than the one with one child; and that other conditions, which are disregarded by other draft boards of the nation, are taken into consideration in fixing his status.

A man with ten children was recently drafted by the Washington County (Miss.) draft board. If he were in an office in Washington, he would be as safe as the gold at Fort Knox is. Theoretically, family dependency has no bearing on the draft status of an individual. The government "makes up the difference" in family allotments.

Something should be done about this.

Inflation

The primary cause of inflation in the bidding of people who have more money than they know what to do with, against each other for scarce articles. It comes when there is more money than there are things to buy.

I have before me a copy of a menu in a cafe in China which shows what inflation HAS done (not what it IS GOING TO DO) to war-ridden, isolated China. The price without parentheses are in terms of Chinese dollars, those in parentheses are in terms of American dollars. Here are some of them: Chicken gizzard soup, $35 ($1.74); T-bone steak, $110 ($5.50); chicken pie, $130 ($6.50); fried pork chop, $88 ($4.00); roast, $29 ($1); tea $20 ($1), and so on and one.

If people of America continue to hoard currency in boxes, under the hearth and idle on deposit in the banks, forcing the government to issue more and more currency, we COULD easily have inflation. The greatest insurance against inflation is to lend idle money to the government, in buying only the things actually needed and in taking care of what we have.

Remember this fundamental proposition: the more currency there is, the less each dollar will buy. You can not get around it.

Farmers?

Farmers are exempt from the draft. Real farmers, who contribute a substantial surplus to the national food stock pile, should be exempted, for they are just as essential as war workers.

But so-called "farmers" who do not even produce enough for themselves to consume had better be in the army. Draft boards throughout the South particularly, where most of us are lazy as hell, should apply some practical test to individuals seeking exemptions because they claim to be farmers. Here are a few questions to investigate:

1. Do you produce enough food for yourself and family.
2. Do you keep a cow.

3. Have you enough hens to provide your family with sufficient eggs and poultry.

4. DO YOU HAVE A GOOD GARDEN, or just a patch that you plant in the Spring and neglect all the rest of the year.

5. Do you keep enough hogs to produce your own meat, or do you live on salt sow belly the entire year.

Just living in the country does not make a man a farmer.

Margie, The Modern Cinderella

Practically nearly every one knows about the poor little girl who was so barefooted that she was rarely ever noticed by anyone until one day the news leaked out that a want ad. was in the local paper for a Princess. The ad. stated that to qualify for the Princess job, the aspirant would have to be able to have her foot fitted to a certain glass slipper that the Prince carried around in his pocket and whiled away his time trying it on the different girls that crossed his path.

There was a grand rush by all of the so-called eligibles to try on the slipper, but to the dismay of all the slipper just wouldn't fit—The little poor girl who lived down across the Railroad tracks kept begging to be allowed to try on the slipper, but they laughed her to scorn, but the Prince saw he was going to be an old bachelor if he didn't act quick, so grabbed at the last straw and tried the slipper on the little poor girl and lo and behold it fitted to a tee and the little girl became a beautiful Princess and was married to the Prince and everyone was happy ever afterward except the girls who had big feet.

YES MAM

One time Napoleon decided he would do just as Hitler has been trying to do—He thought that he would say BOO, and the Russians would all get scared stiff and run off and leave Moscow vacant and he would move in—rent free. (The Russians didn't scare easy, so his men kept hollering for butter and being short of cowboys he didn't have any cows, so he offered a premium for a substitute.

Sure enough a man made some Margarine which was pretty good, but they had to come on back home and quit playing around, because the Russians played too rough.

SHE'S GOOD

The butter interests have done a pretty good job of keeping Margie over across the railroad tracks up until we got to playing rough, so now we are short of butter we've tried the glass slipper on Margie and she has turned into a beautiful Princess all fortified and she even appears on the government nutrition charts as one of the basic foods and nearly every one greets her with a smile and don't make any bones about loving her because she consists mostly of pure vegetable oils raised right here at home and fortified to the same degree as butter.

If some of the Big Shots up around Wisconsin ever go off on a vacation, maybe our Congressman can slip a bill in before they get back and kill the Federal tax on Margie so when leaf-raking time comes around again, the poor little children will have a good cheap spread for their bread.

(With apologies to Cinderella)

Jugoslavia's Tito'

By Frank Gerosi

(WNU Feature—Through special arrangement with Collier's Weekly)

Fifteen years ago, Josip Broz was a nameless man hunted as a Communist criminal by the police and secret agents of the then most powerful figure in Yugoslavia, Gen. Perza Zivkovic, strong-arm front man for the late pious, dictatorial King Alexander.

Josip Broz did not have a birth certificate, much less a passport. For the entire year 1928, he lived in the political underworld of cellars and garrets in Belgrade, Zagreb and Split, and wherever he could find refuge.

His crime? He had organized the Metal Workers' Union and was one of the leaders of the trade-union movement in Yugoslavia.

He was caught early in 1929 and jailed. He was released four years later with gray in the soft waves of his brown hair, ulcers in his stomach and a dream in his brain.

Leader of 300,000 Fighters.

Today, at the age of 55, he stands at the head of an army of 200,000 and possibly 300,000 oddly uniformed but uniformly determined men and women known as "Partisans," who have proved everlasting that slave men may win battles but free men win wars.

Today Josip Broz is the military and spiritual leader of a movement which has broken the Nazis' hold on the Balkans, obviated an Allied offensive in southeastern Europe until the main German armies can be crushed in the East and West, and has given new meaning to the words "A People's War" and "The Four Freedoms."

To his army and the guerrilla bands and to millions of Yugoslavs in freed territory and the outside world, Josip Broz is known as Tito.

"Tito" means you and "To" means this. Broz has few idiosyncrasies or mannerisms to mark him apart from other men, but one of them is the habit of prefacing an order with "You do this." Hence his name. It is pronounced Tee-toe.

To the Titos of this world and their followers must go an indefinable measure of credit for the victory that will be ours.

To one particular Tito—he who was born on a 30-acre farm near Zagreb of a Croat father and a Slovene mother—must go most of the credit for the rebirth of Yugoslavia and the immobilization of the German armies in the Balkans, and the setting into motion of a revolution in southeastern Europe which might provide a permanent solution to the problems of one-third of the people of that continent.

Mikhailovitch Helped.

What credit isn't Tito's must be given to Draja Mikhailovitch, who unfortunately chose, at one stage of his dramatic career as liberator, to turn from killing Germans to taking part in civil war and only sporadically resumed the bigger job.

Tito is of slightly more than medium height, broad-shouldered, long-armed and sturdy-legged. His head sets low on his shoulders and it is a remarkable head. In profile, it is the head of a poet and philosopher—who is also a skilled craftsman—a Cellini perhaps. Full face, it is the tough, determined visage of a triple-threat halfback.

A side view of this prodigiously proletarian shows a high forehead, bulging shaggy brows with a deep crease between them, capable of eloquent frowning. His nose is long, slightly beaked, with thick nostrils. He has a straight, kindly mouth, good chin and a heavy workman's neck. There is what some would call an American Indian cast in his features.

Face to face, he looks remarkably like a clean-shaven Stalin, the effect being accentuated consciously or not by the cut of his unadorned broad-collared tunic.

He speaks matter-of-factly, in a low, well-modulated voice, looks directly at you as he talks and never speaks until you have finished what you have to say. He talks, they say, to each individual in an audience, moving his eyes deliberately from one person to another.

He smokes innumerable cigarettes, chain fashion, from a small holder. Far from being "a man of steel," he is capable of great emotion.

Mourns for Dead.

"When something really bloody happens," a man who spent months with him in Yugoslavia told me, "he's knocked out. No hysterics, no pyrotechnics. He just retires quietly for hours, as he did the night he got word that his friends Milosevic and Kovacevic had been killed."

Out of their affection for Tito, the people have fashioned a legendary man of extraordinary courage and endurance who rides a white charger and walks uphill to spare its strength, who is always at the head of his guerrilla detachments.

LESSON TEXT: Mark 14:10, 11, 53, 54, 56-72; 15:13-15.

GOLDEN TEXT: He is despised and rejected of men: a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief.—Isaiah 53:3.

The time had come! Jesus was about to be condemned and crucified; and though sinful men thought thus to rid themselves of the One who had pierced their hypocrisy and unveiled their unrighteousness. His death was, in the providence of God, the giving of Himself for our sins.

What He endured as He went to the cross is enough to break one's heart, for here we see the denial, betrayal and compromise of men:

I. Christ Sold for Money (14:10, 11).

When one sees the awful things which have been done and are being done for money in this world, it becomes clear why the Bible repeatedly calls it "filthy lucre."

"Money! How many awful things have been done for money. How many dishonest officials have secured high places in government by money! How many people have lost their lives because some shrewd, crooked broker schemed to take their money away, because he wanted it. How many millions of people have been kept in poverty because men cared more to increase their wealth than they did to relieve the distress of those who worked for them . . . Money is what keeps the dance halls going; a lust for money is what keeps our breweries and distilleries open; it is money that makes men want to produce lascivious plays and motion pictures" (W. M. Smith).

Fundamentally, it was the love of money that made Judas betray his Lord. "What will ye give me?" was his question (Matt. 26:15).

But money is not the only price with which men may be paid. We find next—

II. Christ Deserted for Comfort (14:53, 54).

Peter would not have risen to the suggestion that he sell his Lord for money, so Satan was too smart to stir his loyalty by such a suggestion. He used another method with Peter.

Things had become very difficult for our Lord. He was led away to be falsely accused and subjected to persecution. It was no longer comfortable to be at His side, as it had been when He fed the multitude and healed the sick, and silenced His enemies.

This was cold unpleasant business. Why should Peter get mixed up in it? After all he could just as well keep a safe distance, and besides it was warm at the fire. Oh, yes, the enemies of the Lord had kindled it and stood around it, but that didn't need to make Peter an enemy of His—or did it?

How many Christians who would meet with hasty and courageous denial the suggestion that they sell their Lord, have betrayed Him by warming themselves at the fires of this world.

III. Christ Denied for Fear (14:65).

Peter, the staunch defender of our Lord, who had assured Him that no man would be cowardly if he had the fear of God in his heart, was afraid to confess His relationship to Him. He had followed so far off that He had lost touch with the Peter who on another day looked away from the Master's face and fled.

What had happened to Peter? He had become so at home by the fire of the enemies of his Master that he was afraid to confess his relationship to Him. He had followed so far off that He had lost touch with the Peter who on another day looked away from the Master's face and fled.

Shopping for lingerie with his wife, Geoffrey Barnes, he of the ominous voice on "The Mystery Theater," yielded to the temptation to use his radio voice on the elevator operator. Barnes says he never had an easier time getting out.

Next time you hear Cary Grant in a radio play, picture him acting out all the dialogues as if he were before the camera. When he's out of a scene he walks into the wings, mingles with the supporting players, and contributes to the off-stage sound effects.

After finishing the hilarious "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek" Preston Sturges left Paramount; now he's gone into partnership with Howard Hughes, who'll be his financial backer. That combination should produce some startling pictures!

Dimitri Shostakovich's Eighth Symphony will be given its first performance in the Western hemisphere over the CBS network on Sunday, April 3, by the New York Philharmonic symphony. Bill Downes brought the symphony back from Moscow.

Men and women today are willing to condemn Christ anew because to submit to Him and bear His name would require of them a sacrificial living which they are not willing to give. So they pass Him by, and go on to a Christless eternity.

It costs something to follow Jesus—to stand true to Him in a rejecting world. One wonders at times whether this is not one reason why God does not send a revival to the Church. We are probably not willing to bear the inconvenience. It would upset our regular order of life.

Haymaking
Besides the heavy labor, haymaking requires a long harvest season, in which poor weather and impossibility of cutting all hay at prime stage reduce the quality. Hay that is poorly cured causes hundreds of barns to burn each year through spontaneous combustion.

One-Fifth Bottle
The one-fifth bottle (four-fifths quart) as used in the liquor industry came into use in this country due to imported liquors being bottled in the metric system, of which the unit of capacity approximated four-fifths quart or one-fifth U. S. gallon.

Both solid and liquid foods either fall or drip through to the drip pan under the heating unit, or if caught on the unit, are burned up. The drip pan is directly below the heating units and should be frequently removed for cleaning.

Even though the surface units in all electric ranges are sturdy and designed to withstand rough handling, there is no excuse for abusing them. In cleaning, it is not advisable to use a knife or stiff wire brush. Use a bristle brush and hot water, with strong soap or cleanser.

The Oven: If spilled food and grease remain in the oven from one day to the next, they will cause smoke and odors, and will eventually become burned-in and impossible to remove. To clean the oven make sure that switches are turned off; remove the baking racks, heat distributor, and oven baking units; wipe oven with a cloth wrung from soapy water; use an abrasive when required; wipe dry; wipe off baking racks and heat distributor.

HOW TO CLEAN YOUR RANGE

The electric range is as easy to clean as it is to use. Just a few simple rules will help you to extend the life of your range—and keep it in good repair during the wartime period. This is all there is to it—

Turn all switches off. Let range cool. Wash enamel parts with warm, soapy water, rinse, and dry. To prevent stains, remove spots soon after they occur. Clean chrome plated parts with soap and water. Polish with dry cloth.

CHANGES WITH GROUND MEAT

It's fun to make changes—and find change in your purse besides! You'll find no ground for complaint when you serve ground meat new ways, for ground meat is as thrifty as a patched sleeve—the best "stretcher" in the world, for you can extend the good meat flavor with other flavors and still get regularly necessary nutrients found in all meat.

Forget about meat patties, fried, and meat loaves, baked. Take to tricks with ground meat for thrifty eating. As a start we give you some tricks to change ground meat.

Trick No. 1: Vary the kind of meat you use. Beef is good, but lamb, pork or veal or a combination is tasty. Let your meat-man make you up a mixture. Try ground meat with some vitamin-rich variety meat, such as pork liver, mixed in! Add a little sausage meat to the milder-flavored meats like lamb. Meat drippings lend flavor. Leftover ground meat may be combined, mixed—all kinds. Ground frankfurters or bologna layers a new taste.

Trick No. 2: Change the shape of your ground meat dishes. Meat balls and patties are familiar friends, but try individual meat loaf squares with onion rings on top, meat-rice cones or croquettes with spicy sauce, or casserole layers of meat and vegetables.

Trick No. 3: Change your "extender." If you usually use cooked rice, try bread crumbs or macaroni; try a cereal meat mixture. Baked potatoes will take to ground meat, boiled potatoes will cube up with it.

Trick No. 4: Use ground meat as your "stuffing" for vegetables—squash, eggplant, peppers, tomatoes, sweet or white potatoes.

Trick No. 5: Save your ground meat! Save out a little when you make your meat loaf, for instance, brown it in lard, then add your onions, seasonings, peppers or tomatoes and simmer. A well-seasoned sauce and ground meat is the base for nearly any main dish.

Trick No. 6: Vary your seasonings and hearken to herbs! Combine marjoram with lamb, thyme with beef, curry with veal or lamb, dry mustard for left-over ground meat mixtures, paprika for veal mixtures.

Trick No. 7: Gravy's a trump trick! Ground meat and gravy will top any starchy food base. But add some horseradish to your white sauce for meat balls. Mushroom gravy makes ground meat and rice comes something very fine. Dash in some Worcestershire, meat sauce, straw chives over the top, experiment with onion gravy, pickle gravy.
